xSPECTAR Sells Out Genesis NFT Pre-sale!

The Metaverse or xSPECTARverse is coming, built with a collection of NFTs featuring beautifully rendered 3D secret agents. Community members are anticipating this Metaverse and its release in phases, which has led them to purchase the pre-sale NFTs using the XRP token. Holders of an xSPECTAR Genesis NFT will have two plots of XS land reserved for them in the xSPECTARverse. The community is looking forward to the public XS land sale as this will feature the incredible design of the xSPECTARverse. NFT Holders will also have access to IRL events for networking such as the event already held this month in London, England.

The xSPECTAR ecosystem launched on the XRPL blockchain. This NFT collection includes a nod of respect with a character likeness to the CTO of Ripple Labs, David Schwartz along with other notable celebrities rendered in 3D, including Elon Musk, Gary V, Snoop Dogg, Jordan Belfort, Mark Cuban, and CEO of xSPECTAR Dirk Schepens.

Community members will experience a virtual art gallery called XS Community Hall at the launch of xSPECTARverse. The 3D Rendered avatars from the 8,888 NFTs include male and female characters with various features, clothing, weapons, and accessories.

The pre-sale event is now complete, with 7,111 NFTs sold and 1,777 NFTs for future allocation. Users will still have a chance to purchase the NFTs on a secondary marketplace for xSPECTAR. The xSPECTAR community and other early adopters will be able to enjoy the experience built on Unreal Engine 5, which is known to have been the foundation for video games such as Fortnite, Mass Effect 4, The Matrix Awakens and more.

When asked what he was most excited about with xSPECTAR, CEO Dirk Schepens commented, “We have built the xSPECTARverse to create an intersection between technology and social change. Businesses are already building their digital use-case models to satisfy the changing scope of future consumption. The xSPECTAR ecosystem will push these boundaries with our incredible ecosystem being deployed.”
